Primary Election Results for California:

In spite of the fact that Republicans only number 26% across the blue state of California, amazingly, we won many "top 2" key positions making it so that Republican candidates will vie for those positions in the November elections. It probably helped that there was a low turnout (only 22%), and that there were many Democrat candidates running for key positions that split the vote. According to the Secretary of State's Office, here are the results and the percentages:

For Governor: Republican John Cox (26.2%) vs. Democrat Gavin Newsom (33.4%). The other favored Republican candidate Assemblyman Travis Allen came in 4th with 9.7%. That is still good with 27 candidates in total running.

Secretary of State: (R) Mark Meuser (32%) vs. (D) incumbent Alex Padilla (51.5%)

Controller: (R) Konstantinos Roditis (35%) vs. (D) Betty Yee (60.9%)

Treasurer: (R) Greg Conlon (22%) vs. (D) Fiona Ma (43.2%)

Attorney General: (R) Judge Steven Bailey (25.3%) vs. (D) Xavier Becerra (45.3%)

Insurance Commissioner: (Independent) Steve Poizner (41.3%) vs. (D) Ricardo Lara (40.6%)

Superintendent of Public Instruction: (Reform-minded) (D) Marshall Tuck (37.1%) vs. (Union-backed) (D) Tony Thurmond (34.3%)

US Senate: Sorry to say no republican made it to the top two. Dianne Feinstein (age 84) got 43.8% of the votes and Kevin DeLeon came in second with 11.3%. Republican Paul Taylor, the candidate many Eagle Forum members were supporting came in 5th with 5.1%. That was still good out of 32 candidates running.

Shanon Grove - District 16 - (R) a favorite former assemblywoman now running for state senate got 59.9% of the votes.

Republican Candidates for Congress Still in the Running: Tim Donnelly - District 8 with 22.6%, he appears to be in the top two with a runoff against incumbent (R) Paul Cook 41.5%.

Duncan Hunter Jr. - District 50 - 48.7% votes.

Tom McClintock - District 4 - 52.1% votes.

Doug La Malfa - District 1 - has 51.8%.

Dana Rohrabacher - District 48 - has 30.4% out of 16 candidates.

No More Democrat - Super Majority in the Senate! In a recall election in Orange County, voters removed Freshman

Democratic Senator Josh Newman of Fullerton from office over his vote to raise gas taxes last year. They elected in his place former Republican Assemblywoman Ling Ling Chang. That means Senate Democrats won't hold the 2/3 majority needed to pass unstopped tax and fee increases.

Another Successful Recall was Santa Clara County's Superior Court Judge Aaron Persky, who had been accused of giving a lenient sentence to a rapist. Persky is the first sitting Cal. judge recalled in more than 80 years.

A Republican-backed petition effort to repeal the gas tax increase will likely be on the Nov. ballot. 940,000 signatures have been gathered far in excess of the required 584,000.

Result of State-Wide Ballot Measures:

68 - Natural Resource Bond - $4 billion to be used for improving parks, environment, fixing water infrastructure and flood protection. It passed 44%.

69 - Transportation Revenue - Restrictions and Limits - Supposedly this would make sure the money designated for transportation would go where it is supposed to go. But money raised by the gas tax would be exempt. It passed by 19.6%.

70 - Greenhouse Gas Reduction Reserve Fund - The money collected by CARB (California Air-Quality Resource Board) selling Cap-and-Trade credits would go into this account and could not be diverted to other causes. It would require a legislative supermajority vote in 2024 approving use of Cap-and-Trade funds. Fortunately, this was defeated by 63.6%.

71 - Ballot Measures: Effective Date - This would move the date of when ballot initiatives can be put into effect to the 5th day after the Secretary of State certifies the election results. This would assure that all the votes by mail would have sufficient time to be counted. This passed by 23.2% of the vote.

72 - New Construction: Rain-Capture - This will prevent a property tax increase on homeowners who install rainwater recycling systems that help store water and lower water bills. This passed by 16.7%.

Voter Fraud Big in the Golden State:

Eleven California counties in 2016 posted votes in excess of their registered voters. Not surprisingly, they were all votes for Hillary.

Judicial Watch has been investigating voter fraud across the nation. They have discovered that there are 462 counties that had over 100% people voting in 2016. The worst counties they discovered for “ghost voters” were Los Angeles and San Diego. LA used to have 112 % over-registered voters which equals 707,475. In 2016, it is now 144 % of its registered citizens voting. San Diego had 138 %, which translates into 810,966 over-registered ghost voters.

When all the ghost votes are totaled from all 11 counties, “California is a veritable haunted house, teeming with 1,736,556 ghost voters.”

Take a Stand Against Marijuana: For our May 17, Sonoma County Eagle Forum meeting, along with two other speakers, we heard from Moira Jacobs, who is part of a group in Sonoma County fighting the legalization of commercial marijuana - www.SOS Neighborhoods.com.

Join the SOS Neighborhood Group and Speak out against Marijuana before the Board of Supervisors meetings at 575 Administration Drive, Room 100 A.

SOS stands for “Save our Sonoma County.” The group feels tax payers should be saved from being forced to support and subsidize commercial marijuana operations, especially when they are harming the residence of our county.

Here are the many ways in which residence are harmed:

Marijuana plants have been altered. The potency is now 10-40 times stronger than in prior years. The THC (mind altering chemical) continues to negatively affect memory and emotional processing, organs and bodily systems for days and weeks after use. It is also found to reduce the IQ after continued use.

It is a gateway drug. Marijuana affects the same receptor part of the brain as heroin; it primes the brain to seek for stronger drugs. It causes and exacerbates: addiction, depression, psychosis, schizophrenia, hallucination, psychotic breaks, violent acts, anxiety, loss of memory, perception, motor skills, mental degeneration

Smoking Pot increases driving accidents, crime and rape crimes, even murders. Did you know that 9 out of 11 recent murders in Sonoma County took place on pot farms?

The killers were looking for pot and cash hidden somewhere on the farm, since they know that the pot growers are not allowed to put their money in banks. The federal government still considers marijuana illegal, so federal banks cannot allow pot growers to deposit money.

Sonoma County passed the ordinance that Cannabis farmers would be allowed to grow pot legally for commercial use mainly thinking they would get taxes coming back to help the county. However, since there are no checks or bank transactions to trace, often the pot is sold under the table, and there are no taxes coming to the city.

June 12 - 9:00 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Day of Action Rally, west steps of the State Capitol Against AB 2943 - a Bill which is Trying to Silence and Hinder Religious Liberty:

AB 2943 - Is Entitled “Unlawful Business Practice - sexual orientation change effort” It essentially would make illegal “under California’s consumer fraud law any attempt for a church pastor, leader, counselor to give “conversion” therapy to any adult person questioning their sexual orientation and seeking help to change that orientation. The state legislators have already passed a bill that would ban anyone giving any such therapy to a minor under the age of 18. AB 2943 has already passed the Assembly and is now onto the Senate Judiciary Committee, where it will be heard on Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 p.m..

The bill will also ban along with counseling any books, literature, and conferences which would be dealing with this subject of gender or sexual orientation. Would that also ban the Bible, which also mentions such words?

The California Family Council, with which Eagle Forum of California is closely aligned, is co-hosting the Day of Action Rally to speak out against this bill. Jonathan Keller, CEO, made the following statement about this bill:

The implications of AB 2943 are staggering. Despite attempts to spin the bill as “narrowly tailored,” its effects spread far beyond merely regulating licensed therapists...it threatens religious non-profits, churches and pastors. Anybody who provides paid resources and services to help people practice their faith...will be in the crosshairs if this bill is signed into law.

SB 320 - Attack on the Liberties of Universities to Say What is Provided in their Own Health Clinics:

If this bill passes then all CSU and UC colleges would be mandated to offer their women students chemical abortion drugs. The bill states that the drugs are “extremely safe,” but that is not the case. The following is what Orlean Koehle wrote about the safety issue on Eagle Forum letterhead stationary that was sent to the Assembly Education Committee, where the bill will also be heard on June 12:

“Chemical abortions are very painful, cause enormous bleeding and sometimes death.” RU-486 requires a two-step process of starving the unborn baby to death and a subsequent chemical application for expulsion of the dead child. With one young girl, the cramping, nausea, the pain, and constant bleeding lasted continuously for 12 hours. There are also side effects that can go on for months. Some complications result in bacterial infections that ended in the death of four California women. According to 2006 statistics from the New York Times, the rate of death of women who have taken RU-486 is one in 100,000. According to a 2011 report by the FDA (US Food and Drug Administration), ‘14 American women died, and 2,207 reported serious adverse side effects, 612 women required hospitalizations, 339 experienced blood loss significant enough to require a transfusion, 256 experienced infections, and 48 women experienced severe infections.’ Do we want any of our college students to risk being part of any such statistics?”

If any of you can attend the rally about AB 2943 and also speak out at the both of hearings (at 1:30 p.m.), it would me much appreciated. For those of you who can’t come, please call the members of the committees Monday or Tuesday morning and express your opposition and please pray that these two bills will be stopped.

To oppose AB 2943, call the members of the Senate judiciary committee:

Senator Hannah-Beth Jackson (Chair) 916-651-4020
 Senator John Moorlach (Vice Chair) 916-651-4037
 Senator Joel Anderson 916-651-4038
 Senator Robert M. Hertzberg 916-651-4018
 Senator Bill Monning 916-651-4017
 Senator Henry Stern 916-651-4027
 Senator Bob Wieckowski 916-651-4010

To oppose SB 320 - call the 13 members of the Assembly Education Committee by going to this link which gives their numbers: <http://ahed.assembly.ca.gov/membersstaff>

Attack Continues on our 2nd Amendment Rights: (Submitted by Capt. Phil Graf, our Issue Director of 2nd Amendment Rights) Here’s a list of companies that have been influenced by the uninformed, hysterical Parkland children, none of whom understand the linkage between gun control and tyranny, all of whom buy into the illogical argument that to stop deranged murderers, we should penalize all those who didn’t do the crime; and who ignore the evidence that, if present, armed citizens are the first line of defense of the unarmed innocent. (Like the NRA instructor who used his AR15 to stop the Texas church murderer.)

Banks Attempt at Gun Control: Banks and credit card companies are exploring ways to detect when their customers are purchasing firearms and firearm accessories.

The Wall Street Journal references sources suggest financial companies have explored creating a new credit-card code for firearms dealers, similar to how they code restaurants, or department stores. These sources believe that efforts to detect gun purchases ‘could be a prelude to restricting such transactions.’

Another option would be the opportunity for banks and credit card companies to begin compiling a list highlighting the types of guns Americans are purchasing and the frequency at which those purchases are occurring.

Access to such data could also “allow banks to restrict purchases at certain businesses.”

Corporate Gun Control: This emerged as a new battleground against the Second Amendment in the days and weeks following the Parkland school shooting. It began with a campaign against the NRA, wherein companies were pressured to cease offering discount rates to the NRA’s five million members.

February 24, just ten days after the Parkland shooting, Breitbart News reported that over a dozen companies had cut ties with the NRA; such companies as: First National Bank of Omaha; Enterprise Rent-A-Car; Symantec; Metlife; Delta Airlines; United; Best Western; Alamo Rent a Car; Avis; Allied Van Lines; Budget; Chubb Insurance; Hertz; North American Van Lines; Paramount RX.

Good Things are Happening - Faculty Armed at the Medina Ind. Texas School District: This sign has been posted since 2016. They seem to have no problem with any gun violence at any of their schools. I wonder why?

Eleven-Year Old Girl Marksman Defends Her Home Against Robbers and Killers: Two illegal aliens, Ralpher Resindez, 23, and Enrico Garza, 26, probably believed they would easily overpower a home-alone 11-year-old girl named Patricia Harrington after her father had left their two-story home.

But these crooks did not seem to know two important facts: They were in Montana and little Patricia had been a clay-shooting champion since she was nine.

Patricia was in her upstairs room when the two men broke through the front door of the house. She quickly ran to her father's room and grabbed his 12-gauge Mossberg 500 shotgun

Resindez was the first to get up to the second floor, only to be the first to catch a near point blank blast of buckshot from Patricia's knee-crouch aim. He suffered fatal wounds to his abdomen and genitals.

When Garza ran to the foot of the stairs, he took a blast to the left shoulder and staggered out into the street where he bled to death before medical help could arrive. It was found out later that Resindez was armed with a stolen 45-caliber handgun he took during another home invasion robbery. That victim, 50-year-old David O'Burien, was not so lucky. He died from stab wounds to the chest.

Somehow this story never made it on NBC, CBS, PBS, MSNBC, CNN, or ABC news. Wouldn't that make exciting headlines "An 11-year-old girl, properly trained, defended her home and herself against two murderous, illegal immigrants and she won. She is still alive. Now THAT is Gun Control!"

Thought for the Day - Calling an illegal alien an "undocumented immigrant" is like calling a drug dealer an "unlicensed pharmacist."

The Sham of the Paris Climate Accord - Thanks to Nicolas Loris from the Daily Signal for the following:

Many world leaders criticized Donald Trump's decision to withdraw the U.S. from the Paris Climate Accord. But, now they are finding, themselves, that no nation can abide by the high demand of the accord for emissions reductions and survive.

Countries are finding that they prefer economic growth to emissions reductions. Most of the countries who signed the accord have actually had to resort to more use of coal for energy production and are, thus, producing more emissions, not reducing them. Which countries? Brazil, Japan, Poland, South Korea, and even Germany, the world leader and promoter on climate change. "Compliance with the Paris Agreement globally has been nothing short of dismal. In fact, most nations will soon fail to meet their agreement-defined deadlines."

Social Media Addiction: How many people do you notice constantly looking at their cell phone or I pad, constantly texting, even on a date. It is almost like they no longer know how to carry on a conversation with other people, except by texting. It has gotten so bad, doctors are even concerned with the permanent curvature that is forming at the back of the neck and back affecting younger and younger people. They have labeled it "text neck."

This addiction is becoming an increasing compulsion.

The University of Chicago recently conducted a study and found social media to be even more addictive than cigarettes and alcohol. "Addictions are, after all, about feeding a compelling urge, and one of the greatest human urges is the yearning to feel connected and a part of something larger. Nothing satisfies this particular urge like logging on and being social with the masses at any hour of the day or night. Desires for social media are difficult to control because of the easy-access availability of it, and because giving in to these urges are far less harmful than giving into drugs or nicotine."

Research also shows the correlation between low self-esteem and social network addiction. Being social online is easier for people who suffer from self-esteem issues. They don't have to actually face and feel shy or self-conscious around other people.

Fake News by the CDC and CBS Pushing Vaccinations:

From an article by Jon Rappoport
Rappoport tells of a film called Vaxxed, that has been showing in theaters and on you tube across America and overseas. "Audiences are stunned by its revelations."

"Vaxxed exposes a huge scandal at the Center for Disease Control (CDC), where a long-time researcher, Dr. William Thompson, confessed in 2014 that he and colleagues committed gross fraud in a study of the MMR vaccine. Thompson admitted that evidence showed the vaccine led to a higher risk of autism in children, but that finding was intentionally buried, and the vaccine was given a free pass.

Of course, mainstream reporters have been mercilessly attacking Vaxxed, and a segment of the population finds it impossible to believe that the CDC would ever commit this kind of fraud."

To help us know just how capable the CDC is of committing fraud, Rappoport interviews Sharyl Attkisson, who was a former star reporter for CBS who was given the assignment of writing about a "swine flu epidemic" in 2009.

Her findings discovered that there was no real epidemic at all. She states:

"We discovered through our FOI efforts that before the CDC mysteriously stopped counting Swine Flu cases, they had learned that almost none of the cases they had counted as Swine Flu was, in fact, Swine Flu or any sort of flu at all."

The story that Attkinson wrote about this false epidemic was published on the CBS website, but then it was squelched and never made it on any CBS television or radio broadcast.

Three weeks after Attkinson's article appeared on the website, the CDC, rather than admitting fraud, doubled down on their lie. As Rappoport writes, "If one lie is exposed, tell an even bigger one. A much bigger one."

Even though they had stopped counting any cases of swine flu, they came out with the following outlandish statement:

"Shockingly, 14 million to 34 million U.S. residents - the CDC's best guess is 22 million - came down with H1N1 swine flu by Oct. 17 [2009]." ("22 million cases of Swine Flu in US," by Daniel J. DeNoon). With the CDC keeping the true Swine Flu stats secret, it meant that many in the public took and gave their children an experimental vaccine that may not have been necessary." [and may have had harmful side effects.]

Rappoport ends his article with the following statement:
The CDC will lie about anything it wants to. It will boldly go where no person interested in real science will go. It will completely ignore its mandate to care about human health, and it will get away with it. And CBS will conveniently forget how it aided and abetted the CDC, by censoring real news, and instead opted for egregious and titanic fake news.

"Build Baby Build" - But "a Different Type of Building" is Wanted - Roadblocks seem to be everywhere else. The following is an update on the Santa Rosa Fires - 8 months later:

Coffey Park, Santa Rosa, where 1300 homes were totally destroyed down to their foundations during the wild fires of Oct. 8, 2017

This update was written June 8, exactly 8 months after the fires. Our fall newsletter of 2017 quoted from Sonoma County Supervisor Shirlee Zane and her plan for Coffey Park to "build, baby, build" but with "a different type of building" - with high density housing close to mass transit.

This different type of building may be possible now. After eight months of frustrations and finding out about more and higher costs, about 40% of the 8,000 people who lost their homes in the fire are not going to rebuild. The costs are too high. Most insurance companies do not insure a home's foundation because most fires do not destroy the foundation. So that is an added expense the home owner has to pay himself - usually costing $100,000 or more.

And with all the "green" policies and regulations in place, the home owner has to do enormous tests of soil and water, even down to 30 feet. Each test costs another several thousand or more. Most insurance policies also do not pay for those tests.

In the Fountain Grove area, a beautiful hilly area that looks down on the city of Santa Rosa, 500 homes were destroyed - most of them million-dollar homes. In parts of that area water pipelines melted, allowing benzene, a component of the plastic to seep into the water. It is hard to get rid of, and it is hard to rebuild or sell the property if you can't drink the water. Owners are told it could take two years to get rid of the benzene.

With all of these extra costs, regulations, fees, and setbacks, very few homes are actually in the process of being rebuilt. However, developers who can now buy up large tracts of land to start building "low cost, high rise, stack-and-pack housing close to a mass transit train line" have no problem starting their building projects.

Save the Date and mark your calendar for our 18th Annual Constitution Day Celebration - Sept. 15 9:00 a.m to 4:00 p.m.

(Location and speakers to be announced soon.)

This is the day that Eagle Forum of California has traditionally had a conference to honor the birthday of our U.S. Constitution (which was really September 17th, 1787) the day that the Constitution was finished and signed onto by all those founding father who had helped write it. We have always had outstanding speakers to help us remember the Constitution and our part in trying to preserve it.

47th National Eagle Council in Washington D.C. on September 27-30th held at the Hilton Crystal City Hotel, Reagan National Airport, Arlington, VA. There are always outstanding speakers. Most people rave about Eagle Council as one of the best conferences they have ever attended. This is also excellent for young people who get a special price. Get your reservations in by June 30th or the price goes up $50. The price includes all conference speakers plus Friday dinner, Saturday lunch, Saturday dinner, and Sunday continental breakfast. The price of the hotel is extra, but there is always a group rate so it is less expensive. Go to www.eagleforum.com and click on the icon to register.

Letter to the EDITOR, June 4th “Vote Republican”: Congratulations to Anne Durham for getting the following letter to the editor published in the Press Democrat, Sunday, just before the primary election.

“As a native Californian, I’m appalled at what our state has become under Democratic Party control. High taxes used unwisely, onerous regulations, homeless encampments and open, widespread drug use overtaking our cities, lack of sensible planning in our drought-prone state, a porous southern border letting in drugs, human traffickers and possible criminals/terrorists who find refuge in our “sanctuary” state, the dumbing down of California’s already high standards by the expensive adoption of Common Core and the widespread forced use of political correctness to shut down free speech. All tend to diminish the quality of life of California families.

Isn’t it past time to stop putting Democrats back in control this election? Fortunately, there are some strong contenders on the Republican ticket. (She lists many of those for a state-wide office.)

Continuing to vote a straight Democratic ticket will continue the erosion of our prosperity and safety here in California. One definition of insanity is doing the same thing over and over again and expecting things to change for the better.

“Silence in the face of evil is evil itself.
God will not hold us guiltless. Not to speak is to speak; not to act is to act.”
